

Literary series begins today at Frost Farm

DERRY — New Hampshire Humanities Council and the Friends and Trustees of Robert Frost Farm in Derry host the annual summer literary series beginning today at 2 p.m. The series continues through the summer. The events are free to the public.

Kicking off the series is Derry Garden Club member Michelle Mensinger, who will lead visitors through the fields and woods surrounding the Frost Farm to identify spring wildflowers. Mensinger, a recipient of the "People's Choice Award" in the Boston Flower Show, is a naturalist, gardener and wildflower enthusiast.

The next Frost Farm program is set for July 8 at 2 p.m. and features Paul Mariani, author of "Go Beyond the Red Wheelbarrow Left Out in the Rain."

For information about the series, visit www.robertfrostfarm.org.

— Julie Huss

